

AMETI

Project Update

9 November 2012

Traffic changes thank you

Thank you for your patience and support while major traffic changes were put in place on Ellerslie-Panmure Highway at the end of last month. The introduction of the diversion via Forge Way and Mountain Rd has been successful, with traffic generally flowing well through the area and drivers getting used to the lane changes fairly quickly.

This diversion will remain in place until about August 2013. It allows us to demolish the current Ellerslie-Panmure Highway traffic bridge and build a new one, as well as work on the new Panmure Station building.

Night works for traffic shift to new bridge

Roadworks at night are necessary from this Sunday 11 November to prepare for shifting traffic to the new Ellerslie-Panmure Highway bridge.

There will be noise and vibration from paving equipment and a number of trucks using Forge Way. We apologise in advance for any disruption caused. Doing this work now, before traffic starts using the busway bridge, will reduce the amount of more disruptive work in this intersection next year.

Please contact the 24 hour call centre number below if you have any concerns.

Night time traffic diversions

Traffic changes

The work also involves some night time traffic diversions and right turn restrictions at the Ellerslie-Panmure Highway/Forge Way intersections. See the map for more detail.

Ellerslie-Panmure Highway closed at night between Forge Way and Panmure roundabout:

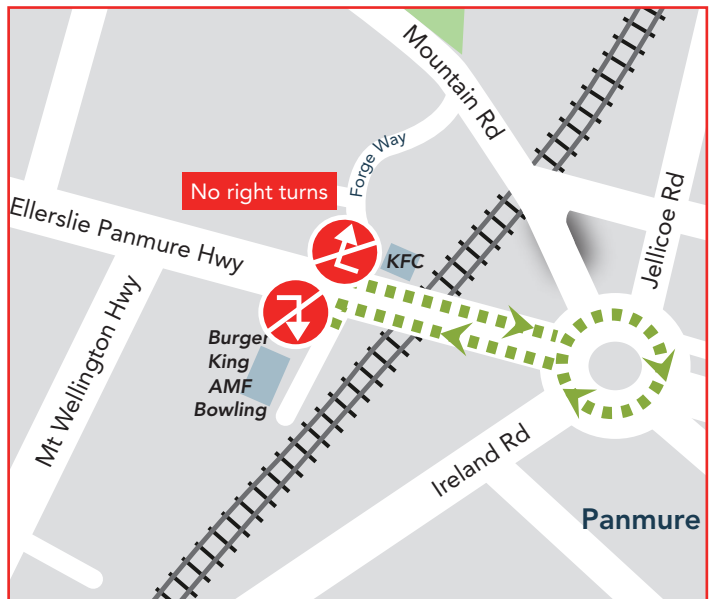

- Sunday 11 to Thursday 22 November 9pm to 6am each night, Fridays and Saturdays 10pm to 7am
- 9pm Saturday 24 to 8am Sunday 25 November.

Ellerslie-Panmure Highway/Forge Way intersection, no right turns into Forge Way or into the Burger King/AMF Bowling service lane at all times Wednesday 14 to 8am Sunday 25 November. This is to prepare for aligning the intersection and the new bridge.

On the night of Saturday 24 November, the road closures are needed to divert the road onto the new bridge. Some paving work is needed at the roundabout end. This work will happen on Sunday night if weather is poor on Saturday night.

If there are not weather disruptions, Ellerslie-Panmure Highway traffic will be using the new bridge from 8am on Sunday 25 November. They will continue using this bridge, built for a future busway, until about August 2013 when the replacement Ellerslie-Panmure Highway bridge is complete.

No right turns at all times 14 to 25 November

For more information phone 09 355 3553 or visit aucklandtransport.govt.nz

Construction Progress

Busway bridge deck - concrete has been poured

Columns for new Panmure Station building in place (foreground). Work is continuing on the architectural finishes and stairs for the pedestrian plaza in the background

View south of tunnel showing walls in place and beams stacked ready to be lifted into place for the roof

New bridge approach - road basecourse being prepared ready for asphalt to be laid next week